

Following our Volunteers throughout their Careers
 (Only capturing a few of the steps – we know there are more, just follow the arrows)

From the 1st Interview ...

... to posing for the badge
 (& Tony was the only volunteer to our knowledge who has ever said, "I love getting my picture taken.")

Susie Case
 New Lead
 Chaplain
 on East Campus

We are pleased to welcome Susie to her new role as of June 1st.

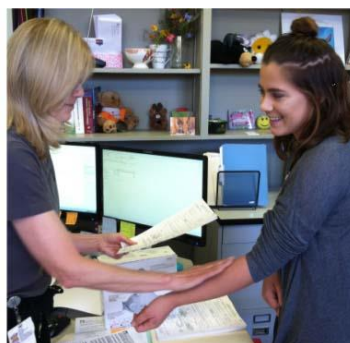

Susie, along with our 35 East Campus Chaplains, provides for the spiritual needs of our patients, visitors and staff, contributing to our total healing environment.

Our sincere thanks are extended to Jan Luke for her previous service in this role.

Hal & Del Rosenwasser

While we've talked about the health benefits of volunteering, perhaps we could make the claim that it also may contribute to a long marriage! Hal and Del volunteer together at the Information Desk on Saturdays.

Caught in the Act ...

We enjoy reading the many TEAM Awards volunteers receive and thought we'd share the sentiments from a couple of recent ones:

"She entertains the family members who are stressed out and scared with wonderful stories. She is so kind and a blessing."

"The volunteers in our department are all friendly, courteous, helpful, informative and GREAT people. We need you – keep up the great work."

What you do is noticed & appreciated!

Partners in Caring Program

A volunteer recently saw someone with a Partner in Caring Badge and inquired about what the badge meant; therefore, we thought we'd offer information on this program.

This program was developed to encourage our patients to select a family member or friend to provide additional support during their hospital stay. The Care Partner can act as a second set of ears by being included, as much as possible, in discussions about diagnosis, treatment, medications, or follow-up care. The Care Partner becomes involved in activities that support the emotional, physical, educational and spiritual needs during the healing process. While performing in this capacity, they wear a badge which alerts the staff of their role and they receive a discount in the cafeteria.

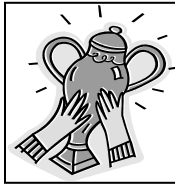

Like so many other programs, our volunteers like Yvonne Gerber, pictured here, have a role in supporting the program by putting together packets and delivering them to patient care areas.

... and everything in between

On your entire YRMC Volunteer Journey Always - Always - Always - We Appreciate You!
